

We're changing the world of research!

If you are triggered by challenges and like to get things done, then you might be the right person to join our amazing crew. Do you want to be part of our fantastic journey?

Your role as our Analytical Project Manager

We are looking for a fantastic blend of a Project Manager and an Analyst, you love data and working hands-on with data simultaneously as you believe that the real value of data comes in turning insights into business actions. You will juggle several projects at the same time together with colleagues from all Nepas areas of expertise; IT, Consulting and Research. You will, as a part of our client teams, use and develop your business understanding and analytical thinking to deliver sharp insights that makes a real impact on our clients' business. Your main responsibilities are to co-ordinate project resources, have a close client relationship and to ensure high quality deliveries.

Your profile as our Analytical Project Manager

We are looking for an individual who have the unique combination of self-motivation and drive, yet a strong and appreciated team player. We already know that you're highly competent, pragmatic, structured and that you thrive in our fast-paced environment. You share our mutual interest in combining business understanding with data crunching and have 2-4 years of experience of research from e.g. a research company, consulting firm or an insight department.

A few more things

- You have a degree within business, economics, engineering or equivalent.
- You are fluent in Swedish and English, both in writing and speech.
- You share our core values; Passion, Innovation and Cooperation.
- You take pride in delivering high levels of service, we are known for that.
